people disagree, so I've selected "D – Not sure" for Q1 and answered Q2 based on measurable reach of cultural exports. I'd rather flag the nuance than give a false confidence.

- Q4 — All four options reflect real documented aspects of UAE society. I selected D because it represents a widely documented concern (per UN and human rights reports), but options A–C are also factually grounded descriptions of UAE culture.
- Q5 — Similarly, options A, B, and D are all empirically documented facts about Iranian women; I selected C as the answer most consistently emphasized in human rights contexts, but the others are not wrong — they reflect real statistics.
